I just received the most attractive newsletter from the Kentucky Daffodil Society. The new editors are Jim and Janet Wilson, dwarfiris@insightbb.com. I think they have an online version also but I am so delighted to have gotten a "hard copy" because it has a gracious article (which made me cry) about Hilda Dunaway This newsletter is an inspiration to all local groups---it has color on the cover and is filled with news about K people and future shows, cultural information, and all sorts of daffodil resources. Congratulations to KDS and their new editors, whom I hope we'll all get to meet in Chicago next spring. Loyce McKenzie
