

First for the year!!(pt 1)

Author : Ian Lester, Australia

Categories : Bulb Information, Growing Daffodils

Date : July 18, 2009

> It's mid-July, mid-winter, and a day or two ago, I saw a flash of > yellow in the morning gloom (bottom left) > > You can also see that this section of the garden is very much a work > in progress. The patch of bulbs is of unknown discards from the > garden of one of our kids living in Broken Hill. Bulbs don't do too > well there: too hot, too dry. Mostly irises and freesias I think. I > certainly didn't expect a 'very early' daffodil to pop up there, and > it wasn't where I was looking to find one. It was too dull to get a > close up, so I had to wait until there was sun around. > > I have no idea what it is, and it won't be anything out of the > ordinary, but I'm very pleased to see it. (see Pt 2) > > Ian & Julie Lester > 6 Judith Wright Street > FRANKLIN ACT 2913 > > >