

'French Prairie' ID

Author : Mary Durtschi, Utah

Categories : Daffodil Types, Standards

Date : February 19, 2010

I'm trying again to get this flower identified. My earlier email may have gotten overlooked after all the wonderful pictures that have been posted lately.

Do any of you grow 'French Prairie'? If so, is this a photo of it? There is only one picture on Daffseek. I purchased 'French Prairie' from Mitch Daffodils about 8 years ago and assumed that it was dead when I couldn't find it the next spring. Two years ago I had a lovely 2W-P bloom for me and I know that it isn't something new that I purchased. I am thinking that it must have had a "near-death-experience" and finally recovered. I know that I "rescue" lots of daffodils through-out the country, but, this is much too NEW looking to have come from those old abandoned sites. Nancy was kind enough to resize it for me so I can post it on Daffnet.