

A great gardening tool

Author : Bill Lee, Ohio

Categories : Planting

Date : September 1, 2012

I discovered a tool made by Fiskars that I have found indispensable. It is a weeder. It looks something like a dagger with a blade that is about an inch or so wide. Rather than ending in a point, the tip is forked. One edge of the blade is serrated for easy cutting of tough stems or roots. Fiskars tells me it can be found at both Meijer's and Walmart stores. It works very well in our Ohio clay soils. It should also be good for making planting holes in tough clay soils.

Bill Lee