

Mystery in forced pot from garden store

Author : Margaret Macneale, Minnesota

Categories : General

Date : March 31, 2017

I always get desperate for bloom by this time in Minnesota's winter, so I bought a pot at the garden store. I assumed it would be the usual Tete-a-Tete pot. However the tag said "Baby Boomer" -- then it bloomed and it is clearly NOT Baby Boomer! So, what is it? It does not look like a miniature to me. Most blooms are 2 1/2" across. Any ideas? No matter what it will go out in the garden eventually. Margaret Macneale

