Good morning everyone

I've been getting quite a few questions about the June Journal. We found ourselves behind this year. Jolene has sent the files to the printer and asked me to send them the mailing list. I have just done this. It normally takes a bit less than a week for the printer to print and mail these out. It then takes at least half a week before the first members receive their copy. So, expect to begin finding the June Journal in your mailbox towards the middle to end of next week.

Sorry again for the delay. I have heard this will be another stellar issue
